Nancy Wynne Hears of Mrs. G. Dallas Dixon, Jr.'s Illness. Philadelphia Cricket Club Tennis Tournament Opens at Bala-Midway Lane at Germantown

YOU will be sorry to hear that Mrs. George Dallas Dixon, Jr., has been operated upon and is in a very serious condition. As I heard of it she and Dal, who has lately returned from overseas, have been living with Mrs. Dixon's mother, Mrs. John C. Groome, at Bryn Mawr, and were about to move into a house they had just taken in Ardmore when Mrs. Dixon became suddenly very ill on Thursday and was sent at once to the hospital. The last reports have not been very encouraging. but Mrs. Dixon has youth and strong will power, and that is always a help in recovering from an illness. She was Agnes Groome, you know, a sister of Mrs. Leland Thompson and Jack Groome, who married Gladys Teague in Augusta last month.

WASN'T it lovely out at Bala yesterday at the Country Club, when the tennis tournament started? So many pretty girls in their tennis flannels and the courts so fresh and green and white and the specta-

Molly Thayer and Sidney Franklin, looking perfectly sweet, were out playing. Molly and Paul Gibbons were partners and Sid Franklin was playing with young Gibbs. I was quite diverted to see two daughters and their fathers playing together opposite various adversaries. Beau Thomson and his daughter, Rebecca, who would have been a debutante last season, and Joe Carpenter. with his daughter Virginia, who belongs to the younger school set and has several years yet before her time to come out.

Though the tournament started yesterday at Bala it is under the auspices of the Philadelphia Cricket Club. and that's why there are so many Chestnut Hill people in it-Mrs. Dick Nalle and Dorothy Newbold and Margaretta Dixon and Mrs. Gilbert Harvey, Mrs. Edward Lavino, Charlie Jennings, Russell Thayer and Mrs. Clement Wainwright and Morris Wistar, and all from around there, besides Molly Thayer and Virginia Carpenter.

Dip I tell you I heard that Coley Brown is on the ocean on his way home. Mrs. Brown had moved into their country house at Devon just about two weeks ago, but she had no hope that Captain Brown would be home before the middle of next month at the earliest. Now she has had word that he is on the seas. He'll find a wee daughter at home whose acquaintance he will have to make, for she arrived several months after he left for France. She is named for her grandmother, Mrs. Arter, and every one says she's a perfectly sweet baby. Her small brother thinks so, anyway. He's crazy about her, and too cute for anything with her.

DID you go out to the Germantown Midway Lane yesterday? It was awfully active. They had School House lane, attractive. They had School House species, sep-between Wayne and Greene streets, separated from the rest of Germantown by large tollgates of black and white painted wood and you had pay toll to get in; but then you paid it to such attractive looking toll takers that you did not mind; you even were auxious to give it to them.

The affair was given for the benefit of the Germantown Hospital and was a great success. The women who got it up had the mos. fascinating booths arranged at various places in the block on School House lane and the tents or counters were covered with wide red and white striped awnings. doubt not that a large sum was gathered for the hospital.

PENN BIBLE SOCIETY ANNIVERSARY TOMORROW

Oldest Organization of Its Kind Founded 111 Years Ago Tomorrow

Among the many great movements, including the beginning of the nation, to which Philadelphia has given birth, not the least in importance has been the Pennsylvania Bible Society, the oldest society of its kind in the country, organized in 1808 upon its resent site at the corner of Seventh and Walnut streets.

In seventy-three languages, some of them so strange that even their names are not generally known, the Bible Society has done its work. Tomorrow its 111th anniversary will be celebrated with appropriate exer-cises in the First Presbyterian Church, Seventh and Locust streets, at 4 o'clock, Doctor Frank P. Parkin, secretary of the American Bible Society, with which the Pennsylvania Bible Society is now federated, will present the annual report, and the Rev. Robert Norwood, "the poet preacher," will give the anniversary sermon. Bishop Joseph F. Berry, president of the society, will pre-During the war the society did much work among the soldiers and sailors. It dis-tributed one million copies of the Testament to service men. There was an eager call for volumes up to the signing of the armistice, showing that even the large numbers issued had not fully supplied the demand. In 1918 13,273 Bibles, 1,840,556 Testaments and 1,990,964 portions of the Old and New Testaments were distributed, making a total of 4,470,357 volumes. making a total of 4,4(0,36); volumes.

The society's plan that every soldier and sailor in the United States army and navy should have a Bible was carried through.

The gospel of Mark in French and English. which was supplied to our soldiers in France, became one of the most popular of the editions, as it helped the boys learn Distributions were made abroad through the Y. M. C. A. and the army chaplains; at home through the Red Cross, women workers generally and individuals.

The great diversity of races in this country is well shown by the fact that in Shenandeah, Schuylkill county, Pa., aloue the Bible is furnished in no less than forty-two different languages.

1t is also furnished the blind in six different styles of type. Among the presidents of the Pennsylvania Bible Society who have won national fame are Bishop William White, who served from 1808-1837; the Rev. Albert Barnes, 1858-1870; Bishop Mathew Simpson, 1871-1884; Bishop William B. Stevens, 1884-1887, and Bishop Whitaker, 1904-1911

SUFFRAGISTS URGING IMMEDIATE ACTION

Women's Party Leaders Want Senate to Pave Way for Amendment Adoption

With a margin of 'wo votes, won by the announcement of Senator Hale, of Maine, that he would vote for the suffrage amendment, suffragists are urging that the amendment be acted upon at once in the Senate. Miss Alice Paul, national chairman of the oman's party, commenting on Senator Hale's pledge, said:

"The statement made yesterday by Sena" or Hale, of Maine, that he would vote for suffrage, following upon a similar announcenent by the new Republican senator from New Hampshire, Mr. Keyes, gives assurance that the Republicans in the Senate will follow the splendid lend of the Republicans in the House and speedily pass the suffrage measure. The pledge of Senator Hale means that the Republicans have now given over four-fifths of their strength in the Senate to the support of suffrage. By so definitely lining their party up in support of suffrage in both houses of Congress the Republicans are giving their party the honor of making a most splendid contribution to the fight for the political freedom of women."

Immediate passage of the amendment suffrage leaders point out, will give an on-portunity to secure immediate ratification in at least a few of the Legislatures still in session.
